

Workday Learning Data Migration Service

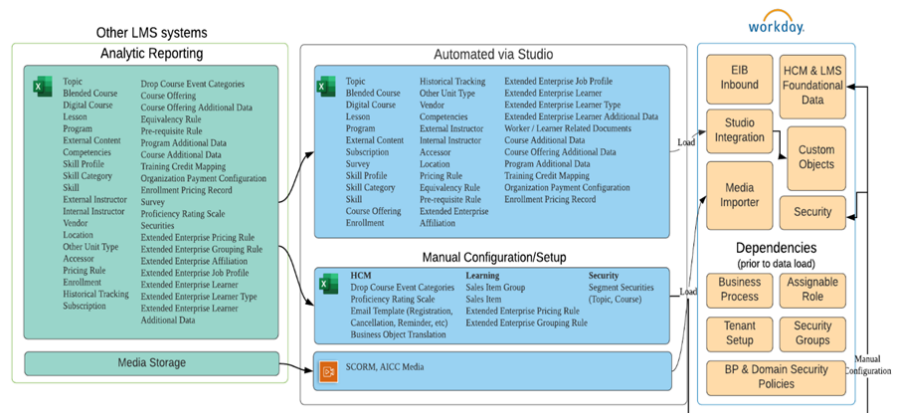

Simplify, automate, and accelerate the data migration process

You're ready to implement Workday Learning... and Digital Cues has the experts, and the tools, you need.

Data migration is a critical and risky component of any Workday Learning implementation. Data from multiple legacy sources must be extracted, consolidated, cleansed, and transformed before it can be loaded into Workday, and after load, reconciled. If the migrated data is not treated properly, delivery deadlines can be jeopardized and the full potential that Workday has to offer may not be realized.

The Challenges

- ◆ High levels of data duplication across disparate legacy systems.
- ◆ Legacy data quality issues which must be identified and corrected prior to loading to Workday.
- ◆ Legacy data structures and use cases which do not align with Workday functionality.
- ◆ Frequent migration changes which need to be accounted for within a short timeframe.

For success, the data migration process must be predictable, executable, and repeatable throughout the duration of the project.

Digital Cues' Workday Learning Data Migration Services makes the difference.

With a specialized team...

- ◆ Experienced data migration consultants focused on your success.
- ◆ Deep product knowledge across leading Learning Management Systems.
- ◆ Identifying, preventing, and resolving issues proactively.

With accelerators...

- ◆ Out-of-the-box validations identify issues with legacy data and its compliance with Workday configuration prior to upload.
- ◆ Extracting data via APIs or incorporating raw data from any LMS.
- ◆ Stringent compliance with data security requirements.

With a different approach...

- ◆ Not your traditional mass load.
- ◆ Phased data load and validation methodology increasing efficiencies and reducing risk.
- ◆ Designed to save time and improve data quality at every step.

How It Works

Digital Cues will meet with you to understand the scope of your implementation project and data migration needs. With options for every size project, we will work with you to create a plan that is suited to your needs as well as your budget. When the success of your Workday Learning implementation is at stake, you can't afford not call Digital Cues.
